

Director/Senior Director/Executive Director, CMC Management

WuXi Biologics United States Remote

Position: Full-time · Director

Employer: 10,001+ employees · Pharmaceutical Manufacturing

About the job

Summary:

Leads the orderly progression of projects from the proposal stage through project completion by interacting with the client, technical team and business development team. The incumbent will also participate in business development activities such as visiting existing or new clients and promoting Biologic's services in conferences/trade shows.

Responsibilities:

- Provide project and portfolio leadership supporting IND enabling early and late stage bioproduct development CMC activities.
- Collaborate with CMC functional areas to ensure successful execution of various CMC projects, and delivery of results on time and within budget.
- Assists with development and manufacturing alliance management, product development and manufacturing strategy.
- Coordinate efforts and facilitate communication to ensure alignment between WuXi Biologics and clients.
- Work with a high performance team to ensure best quality services.
- Enhance current service offering and develop new clients.

Technical Skills / Knowledge:

- Candidate should possess strong and effective project management, problem solving and interpersonal skills and have a proven track record working cross-functionally across a wide variety of technical, business and operational areas.
- Demonstrates good understanding of the pharmaceutical industry and large molecule drug development.
- Depending upon the titles, minimal 5-20 years of relevant pharmaceutical or biotech industry experience in CMC process development and/or GMP manufacturing

- Working knowledge and understanding of current regulations and industry trends for large molecule and Antibody-Drug Conjugate (ADC) product development, manufacture and testing.
- Experience in a Contract Research Organization (CRO) or Contract Manufacturing Organization (CMO) is preferred, but not required.
- Must have working knowledge of MS Office products.

Customary Education and Experience:

- PhD Biochemistry, Molecular Biology, Biochemical Engineering or related discipline, MBA,
- Fluent in English and Mandarin Chinese.
- Technical experience at large pharma or biotech companies.
- Biologics manufacturing experience.

Please send resume to: Chengbin.lin@wuxibiologics.com